We plan to cover topics such as updates on contraception, STIs and HIV, handling parents' concerns, etc. To give us feedback in planning topics most important to you this year and in future year's seminars, please answer this brief survey.

TECHsex USA: Youth Sexuality and Reproductive Health in the Digital Age

ISIS: This white paper provides an overview of the current youth sexual health and digital landscapes. It also provides insight into how youth and young adults, particularly youth of color, use technology to learn, communicate, and discuss sexual and reproductive health. (Registration required).

No registration is required to watch the brief video bringing you up-to-date on the issues.

MISSION

The Teen Pregnancy & Prevention Partnership brings together individuals and private and public organizations to improve communication and education so that youth make choices that decrease the incidence of sexually transmitted infections and unplanned pregnancies.
